

FREE ANDREW AND ALL POLITICAL PRISONERS

Andrew Troxler is an anarchist member of the Lucky Permaculture Workers Cooperative. In November, he was locked away by Creek County Courts for not having money to pay for a lawyer. Andrew is a proponent of harm reduction, an environmentalist, and an empathetic soul. Nobody should be locked away for being broke.

Unfortunately his story is typical of the “justice” system in Oklahoma. It’s a pay-to-play system where money buys freedom, and a lack takes you away from friends, family and community.

According to PrisonPolicy.org, Oklahoma has an incarceration rate of 905 per 100,000 people (including prisons, jails, immigration detention, and juvenile justice facilities), meaning that it locks up a higher percentage of its people than any independent democratic country on earth.
